Wh
191 is always in Manggarai. I have seen this before. "Mengerti sedikit, tidak bisa tjakap [I understand a little bit, but I can't speak it].

53 177 831 We saw a poor show at the pasar malam. It was a sandiwara traveling troupe like the one I saw on the ship. It consisted of torch singers and crooners. The gallery came down with a carioca in western dress. The contact was not close, but closer than they used to make it, and at the end the woman half fell into the man's arms. They shrieked. This very mild sex symbolism in dance was extreme for them. Their dances, as usual, are incredibly dull. The songs repeat themselves over and over again. 526 And they carry on their whip fighting day after day. They even abuse football, and play it from dawn to dusk. This is like the ten games [171] of baseball a day in Micronesia. They overdo things.

201 576 123 832 As we were sitting in the assistant's house with him and the other guru, a woman came in and swiftly pushed her face into mine, holding my head and rubbing noses. It seemed almost as though she were using her mouth a bit too, and I wondered if this were a combination of nose rub and sniff kiss. She then went quickly to Kattenburg and then to the two guru. Nothing would stop her, even embarrassed protests from the guru. The assistant asked who she was, and the other said she was Marcus's wife (who's that?). We were so embarrassed that we turned at once back to the questions, and we acted as though nothing had happened. We saw her later in the rear of the house, looking queer. Query: Was she crazy, or was she doing some bit of unthinking etiquette? But even if she were crazy, she must have been following a pattern here, or why do it in exactly that way? It would have been better if it had been the other guru's wife, who is a beauty.

We

123 the Wailolong folk were suspicious. They said,
609 "Who are these guys? Can it be that now that Holland is going out we are going to be taken over by the United States and that they are the advance agents of American imperialism?" He has explained to them that we are interested only in adat, etc., and they are now contented.

We discussed a certain rank which appears in 614 the record. It is nu'a luka. There must be
343 one of these, a woman, for every kepala suku
562 and kelake (except, as in the case of kepala
243 suku and kelake, when the same woman is both nu'a luka suku and nu'a luka ama). As Roy puts it, every "barn" (that is, an adat barn, for there are many ordinary barns) must have not only a kelake but also a nu'a luka. These women do two things:

(1) Pass out rice seeds to the planters.

(2) Pass out rice to the workers after cooking. They were often the wives of the kepala suku and kelake.

[114] We also noted a possible error in Vatter.[1]
614 He has (I think) only one tuno wudjo. There
796 are as many tuno wudjo as there are kepala suku
831 and kelake and nu'a luka. That is, each "barn"
784 must have one. These were formerly young vir-
241 gins, but now with so few young girls still [857] pagan, they are either (1) old women still re-
[887] maining pagan or (2) very young girls, almost babies, who are as yet unChristianized. (Ironic
[797] note: The Catholics have destroyed the one "virgin trait" in the old culture by not letting them have little girls for tuno wudjo.) (I remember how impressed Roy was when I indicated the parallel between Mary and the virgin tuno wudjo.) These tuno wudjo are evidently posts held for life, or at least as long as they remain pagan. They function at the rites each year, and for the whole growing season they cannot eat sacrificial animal meat (pig and goat; and buffalo?). During other months they may eat such food. This figures out to be roughly about one half of the year. Some of the ama have no nu'a luka, for example, Ama Rere. Indeed, Roy says they must not be too strict about this system because there are plenty of holes in the ideal scheme. As we were finishing up the work he got a note telling him to meet the Radja at the kakang's house for a conference. Evidently he is becoming a big man here. We are perhaps partly responsible.

He is making a map, and his daughter, who goes to the nun's school in Larantuka, is doing the drawing.

The next morning, Sunday, we went back, and arrived while church services were being held. They expected the Radja to visit today, so they had removed a section of the fence to let his car in. He never showed up, which was a disappointment to them, as they were all waiting around. The name of the section of Wailolong where we saw the rite yesterday is Apukule(ng).

We asked about the bonds of friendship and enemy relations here. It is clear that seven of the kampongs are always friendly, and are never at war with one another. The eighth, Riang Kamië, has been the traditional enemy of each of them in turn. They are all descendants of Lenurat, whereas the folk of Rian Kamië are descended mainly from Kroko Putang folk, mixed in with some Sina Djawa. Most enmity against Riang Kamië has been, as usual, by kampongs bordering Riang Kamië. Always, border wars are the most frequent here. Thus, Leloba, Wailolong, and Lewohala are involved. The traditional enemy kampong is Lewowitin. The others are brothers, just as in fact or legend their founders were.

The main causes of wars were, in order:

782 can be used.

771 Three religions are known: pagan, Catholic, and Mohammedan. They know little except about the pagan religion, which they probably know better than the others!

771 I asked about the religion here as given in 114 my notes from Elbert[1] who was here in the pre-Catholic period. They said that my notes were all right, including the god names, and that [775] Mt. Iya was the deadland, etc. In fact, I see more and more that Elbert was a good man. The [776] high god, however, they give the name Ngga'eh Dewa. They say there is no dualism, i.e., no earth mother, here. This doesn't quite jibe with Elbert, but maybe they have forgotten, or they are vague about this. Maybe they are always vague about such stuff as regards the high gods.

778 The tubu musu, indeed, has two stones, and ●831 after hesitation they admitted that it is a male-female symbol. I note that in his Lio dictionary, Arndt[1] says (I think tubu) has an "obscene" significance with reference to "male." Thus it seems clearly a sex symbol. They never heard of yoni. They seem to say that there are two stones, one lying and another standing. Like a fool, I did not check this. I will have to look in Elbert[1] and Suchtelen[1] for this.

[789] They have the matakau, and it is called nabe.

776 The term Ngga'eh Dewa means the god above. I guess that ngga'eh means big or high. They say that ata ngga'eh nua means "pembesar kampong."

764 At death, the bodies were formerly placed in big trees, cocooned. This was true for big men. For about a month they were left there while a feast was prepared. When all the animals and other things were ready, the bundle was brought down from the tree and bones cleaned. Then they 486 and thus the radja would lose income if they emigrated.

266 There was head-hunting here before. They
681 say that the only cannibalism was the eating
754 of the hearts of enemies in order to gain additional strength. There was no human sacrifice, they say, but they have heard of the Lio stuff (and I checked with Arriens[1] and noted that de Bruine[2] in a report on Lio did not list this as among the crimes of the executed Radja of Lio--whose alias was Pius!--but Arriens says that he did it anyway). The only way a person could be given the death punishment was to be proven a suwanggi.

778 More about the tubu musu. They say that 831 "musu" means "two become one." If so, this is 178 perfect, and indeed the tubu musu is similar to the linggam-yoni. Indeed, they say that it consists of an upright stone, less than a meter high, standing on a flat one. "Tubu" they say means "stone," but I note that Arndt gives it an "obscene" meaning (or is it the musu part that is obscene? check Arndt's Lio dictionary).

They have a rather vague idea that this tubu musu may represent male and female. And it can have children. Thus it is like many such stone-bearing stones in Indonesia, including the stones of Larantuka and some on Ambon. I asked if the tubu musu still had children, and this is beautiful, "no more." It is like Roy saying that the familiars of his father appear no more (but they are there and he could call them: "I can call the spirits from there, etc." "Yes, but will they come?") He has no doubt that they would come. I should have asked if the stones still could have children. Anyway, both they and Roy are completely serious about what used to happen. There are no more rites held at the tubu musu, but plenty were held formerly.
